Reach Local Prospects Seeking Skin Treatments

Our Dermatology Lead Generation Program captures prospective patients that are searching for skin and cosmetic treatments in your local area. Unlike radio or print advertising, our digital program targets specific demographics that are actively seeking a treatment for their ailments. This creates a more targeted advertising spend on relevant prospective patients.

We are not in the business of driving "traffic" to your website or generating "likes" for your social pages. We develop relevant landing pages specifically for your Dermatology clinic that are proven to generate real patients consultations.

"[OppGenetix] got us presold patients ready to book an appointment. It does not get better than that!"

Grow Your Dermatology Practice

Currently our Dermatology practices average $338,000 in annual revenue generated per clinic. A phenomenal return on investment. Thanks to the rapid growth and market data our unique program provides, we are able to help many of our clients uncover potential growth opportunities in other markets, leading to the opening of additional clinics.
